I Executive Summary of the Annual PHA Plan

[24 CFR Part 903.7 9 (r)]

Provide a brief overview of the information in the Annual Plan, including highlights of major initiatives and discretionary policies the PHA has included in the Annual Plan.

Mission Statement: "Helping low and moderate income families obtain rental housing they can afford." The Mission Statement for the Housing Department of the Municipality of Arecibo (HDA) sets the framework for the Annual Plan and for the policies and practices of this housing agency.

The needs assessment in this plan identifies a significant need for rental affordable housing. Whereas 1990 census data will still be the basis to prepare the rental need and assessment, the HDA wait list indicates that during the past two years there has been an increase in the number of households who are in need of affordable rental housing, as evidenced by an increase in the number of households seeking assistance and qualifying for the voucher rental assistance. Meeting that need is the primarily goal of HDA Annual Plan.

HDA has consistently implemented policies designed to increase the availability of housing assistance. It pursues a balanced approach between serving the greatest number of households while being fiscally responsible. Where discretionary policies are permitted by the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), HDA choices were to stretch the federal dollars to serve more families at the expense of providing deeper subsidies to fewer families. This is represented in the agency eligibility, selection and admission policies. This policy has to be reviewed for fiscal year 2003.

HDA's primary means for addressing the need for affordable housing is the Section 8 rental assistance programs. Rents for nine hundred twenty eight (928) Arecibians households are currently made affordable through the Section 8 Voucher and Moderate Rehabilitation Programs. This figure accounts for an eleven (11%) percent share of the rental market in the area, excluding the Commonwealth's public and assisted housing programs, funded in part with Section 8.

As a result of a Fair Share application submitted by HDA in January 2001 to increase rental assistance in the Municipality of Arecibo, HUD awarded in October 2001, 75 Section 8 Vouchers under the FY 2001 Fair Share Allocation under the Incremental Voucher Funding competition. The award was made in the amount of $214,610. Nevertheless the mention of the award and the submission of the certifications requested, the total housing vouchers allocated to the municipality does not reflect this increment. The new tenants served came as a result of turnover in these programs. Approximately 100 households in need of assistance are newly served each year.

HDA has received HUD approval to implement a Section 8 Homeownership Program designed to make homeownership an option for Section 8 participants. The goal is to assist 50 participants annually and for the year 2003 the agency has identified 40 potential renters to become homeowners.

Whereas HDA collaborates and continues to collaborate with the Public Housing Administration, the Commonwealth's Section 8 and HOME Programs and the Municipality's HOME Program. All these housing programs pursue the expansion of the supply of affordable housing in Arecibo. HDA administers and expands the supply of Section 8 assistance, as a primary goal for dealing with the housing needs identified in this plan, addressing the affordability needs of low and moderate income. HDA will continue to apply for all such funding when made available by HUD, as evidenced by the recent application and announced allocation of vouchers.

Whereas expansion of affordability opportunities is the primary goal of HDA, managing existing resources to maximize community benefit and maximize the life of affordable housing resources is a significant objective of the agency. In addition to consistently applying for additional vouchers, this agency will have to promote the inclusion of new landlords that will increase the supply of rental units in Arecibo. The supply shortage cost HDA a deduction of reserve funds affecting the possibility to provide new vouchers out of the reserve. It is a priority to revise payment standards in order to incentive the landlords to shift the low stock of affordable rental housing in Arecibo.

Integral to the administration of affordable housing programs, and implementation of the agency plan, is the agency's efforts to ensure equal opportunity for all municipal residents to agency programs. HDA has undertaken a variety of projects to increase independence for the elderly and for families with disabilities. HDA provides guidance and referrals to those who experience discrimination. HDA monitors income levels of rental housing tenants and implements deconcentration practices when needed to maintain a mix of incomes at all rental housing communities. It is within the Agency Plan to continue these policies and practices.

A significant characteristic of the Municipality of Arecibo is the huge concentration of low income households in a specific geographic area. HDA has established a policy to promote deconcentration away from the areas identified monitoring the location of new assisted units implementing practices designed to maintain a deconcentration of low income families.

The Agency Plan has been developed in consultation with Commonwealth and City officials in compliance of their respective Consolidated Plans and to coordinate efforts to broaden housing opportunities and to support Commonwealth and City efforts to implement their affordable housing strategies.

The Annual Plan synthesizes HDA policies and programs into a complete representation of the actions taken by this agency to fulfill its Mission Statement and of its intentions for expanding its efforts to meet the affordable housing needs within the Municipality of Arecibo.

Performance Report: During fiscal year 2002-2003, the agency absorbed eight (8) portability vouchers from New Jersey, Pennsylvania, Deland Florida, Fajardo and Jayuya.

A hundred and seven (107) housing vouchers have been given to low and limited income families from Arecibo.

Five (5) families became homeowners, two (2) of them with the program La Llave para tu Hogar and three (3) bought it with their own means.

One (1) applicant of the Family Self Sufficiency program accomplished the requirements and became self-sufficient; therefore, $624.00 was disbursed from the escrow account designed specifically for this program. He used the escrow account to purchase its home with the program La Llave para tu Hogar.

Violations to the contract can be detected through a series of internal investigations. A few administrative hearings were conducted, as it was petitioned, and four (4) contracts were cancelled. These cancelled contracts are available to other qualifying families on the waiting list. Currently, we are on the second phase of purging the waiting list, which will be published, in the newspaper, on the coming fiscal year.

The Section 8 Program was known for giving vouchers with the only purpose to rent a property. Now, as it was emended, the Municipality presents a Homeownership Plan that will be able to assist low-income families already participating in the Section 8 Program to, not only rent, but also purchase the same property. Those who have a minimum annual income of $10, 300 will continue to receive the monthly subsidy from the Municipal Housing Department but it will not be given to the landlord, instead, the money will go directly to a bank account to ease the payment of the mortgage.

The Municipality of Arecibo has been identifying all the active participants that properly meet with the income requirements. Notifications have been sent through the mail. Since this is a voluntary program, they must let us know if they are interested. Already forty (40) participants have been identified. Credit worthiness is been verified in order to have the first meeting with HUD and the bank. The benefits of this program can be combined with other programs such as La Llave para tu Hogar, Veterano, HOME, Rural Developments, etc.

Exhibit I

DECONCENTRATION POLICY

The 1998 Quality Housing and Work Responsibility Act (QHWRA) requires Public Housing Agencies to submit with their annual public housing agency plans an admissions policy designed to provide for deconcentration of poverty and income mixing at assisted housing neighbourhoods.

There is a need to take steps to achieve deconcentration. In order to accomplish this policy higher income tenants will be brought into lower income assisted housing neighbourhoods and bringing lower income tenants into higher income assisted housing neighbourhoods.

Federal regulations require that public housing agencies determine, and compare the relative tenant incomes of each neighbourhoods occupied predominantly by families with children, and based on that determination, the Housing Agency will decide if higher income tenants must be brought into lower income neighbourhoods and lower income tenants must be brought into higher income neighbourhoods to achieve deconcentration of poverty and income mixing.

The Housing Department of the Municipality of Arecibo (HDA) has determined and compared tenant incomes since QHWRA was adopted to insure mixed incomes are represented in assisted housing.

In December 2000 HUD published a final rule on deconcentration, which establishes an income range of 85 percent to 115 percent (inclusive of 85 percent and 115 percent) of the HDA-wide average income for all neighbourhoods as the range that each community must be within to achieve deconcentration and income mixing.

HDA has adopted a Deconcentration Policy within the context of the Admissions and Continued Occupancy Policy for Low Rent Public Housing that implements the December 2000 final rule on Deconcentration.

On a continuing basis average income will be monitored to ensure assisted housing neighbourhoods are within the established range, and if, based on the analysis, information shows family incomes are inconsistent with the standards set for achieving deconcentration and income mixing, names on the wait list for assisted housing will be chosen to achieve those standards, skipping names if necessary.

The Deconcentration Policy contained in the Admissions and Continued Occupancy Policy is in compliance with HUD's Deconcentration Policy; and whenever the average income of an assisted housing community is beyond the range of 85% to 115%, new admissions will be targeted to families with incomes that will bring the neighbourhood into compliance with the target income range.
